What is CAMS?

CAMS stands for Canadian Association of Mennonite Schools. The 10 member schools include: Mennonite Brethren Collegiate Institute, Mennonite Collegiate Institute, Steinbach Christian School, Westgate Mennonite Collegiate, and the two Winnipeg Mennonite Schools – Bedson and Katherine Friesen - from Manitoba; UMEI Christian High School and Rockway Mennonite Collegiate from Ontario; Menno Simons Christian School from Alberta; Mennonite Educational Institute from British Columbia; and RJC High School from Saskatchewan.

While CAMS schools traditionally mount a Music Festival every four years, a significant part of the value of the CAMS organization is in the twice-yearly leaders meetings. This is a valuable time of sharing and learning from each other with a focus on our identity as Anabaptist schools and how we translate this identity into our daily experiences. We articulate the following characteristics as the distinctive markers of our shared Anabaptist identity:

Jesus as the Center
Discipleship
Peace & Reconciliation
Community
Mutual Care & Service
